Breanna M. Booker

Attorney at Law

bbooker@lashlybaer.com

314 436.8326

Breanna Booker focuses her practice on health care law and litigation, with an emphasis on defending health care providers in medical malpractice matters. She represents hospitals, clinics, physicians, long-term care facilities, health care staff, businesses, and insurance companies.

Breanna supports clients throughout all stages of litigation, including motion practice, discovery, depositions, drafting of settlement negotiations, and trial preparation. She also assists with selecting and coordinating expert witnesses, including disclosures and deposition preparation in complex cases.

In addition, Breanna advises business and health care clients on transactional matters and regulatory compliance, including HIPAA, Medicare and Medicaid, EMTALA, the Anti-Kickback Statute, Stark Law, and telemedicine requirements. She assists with drafting and negotiating contracts for a wide range of health care providers.

Ms. Booker graduated from Saint Louis University School of Law magna cum laude with a certificate in Health Care Law. While at Saint Louis University School of Law, she served as a research fellow to Professor Yvette Liebesman.
