Andrew R. Bramman represents local governments and public institutions across a broad range of municipal matters. He regularly advises clients on governance and compliance issues, including the Missouri Sunshine Law, labor and employment, public works contracting, bidding and procurement, land use and zoning, and real estate and economic development. Andy also represents municipal clients before judicial and administrative bodies at both the trial and appellate levels, and has successfully briefed multiple cases before the Missouri Court of Appeals.

Andy serves as City Attorney for the Cities of Lakeshire, Normandy, and Oakland, and as Municipal Prosecutor for the Cities of Maplewood, Normandy, and Oakland. He has also supported clients in long-term internal leadership roles, including serving fourteen months as Acting Corporate Compliance and Ethics Officer and Acting EEO Officer for a large public agency with more than 2,500 employees.

In recent years, Andy has guided municipal clients through complex, high-impact initiatives, including the 2024 consolidation of the City of Normandy and the Village of Glen Echo Park, only the second approved since the establishment of the St. Louis County Boundary Commission in 1989. He also advised the City of Normandy in connection with Normandy's selection as the site of the USDA's Food Safety and Inspection Service Midwestern Laboratory facility, providing counsel on tax incentives, permitting, and real estate matters.

Andy earned his J.D. from Saint Louis University School of Law, where he received a Certificate in Urban Development, Land Use, and Environmental Law. He was awarded Academic Excellence Awards in Land Use and Jurisprudence (Philosophy of Law). He also holds an M.A. in Philosophy from the University of Missouri–St. Louis, where he served as Treasurer of the UMSL Philosopher's Forum and twice chaired the annual Gateway Graduate Student Conference.

A frequent lecturer, Andy presents on land use and zoning, public contracting and procurement, conflicts of interest and financial disclosure laws, and corporate compliance and professional ethics. As an Eagle Scout, Andy cherishes the hard work of public service. Andy is active in his local community, serving as the Provisional Judge for the City of Wildwood Municipal Court, and previously represented his ward on the City of Wildwood Watershed Erosion Task Force.
